

Ralph J. DeVito M.D.

As a one of the senior partners of The Urology Center, Dr. Ralph J. DeVito has played a major role for championing innovative technologies that the practice is recognized for. He has been caring for patients since 1982 and was recognized for his accomplishments by being selected to serve as Chief of Urology for The Hospital of Saint Raphael from 1999-2008. In addition to his work at The Hospital of Saint Raphael, he is an attending physician at Yale-New Haven Hospital.

After completing his undergraduate studies at Hamilton College in New York, Dr. DeVito attended and graduated from Albany Medical School. He served as the Chief Resident of General Surgery at The Hospital of Saint Raphael and completed his urological training at Yale-New Haven Hospital.

Dr. DeVito resides in Branford, CT with his wife and two children.